Add a course description for GIS201.

2021-2022 College Catalog

Page: 125

GIS201   Introduction to Geographic Information Systems   (3 cr. hrs.)
This course introduces students to the concepts, techniques, and tools of Geographic Information Systems (GIS), which is a computer-based data processing tool used to manage and analyze spatial information. Topics covered include data acquisition, management, manipulation, and analysis, and /(ion)-6)port (ion)-6)port (ion)-6anfAne